American Hotel & Lodging Foundation’s
Research & Project Funding
Guidelines

To meet the goals of the American Hotel & Lodging Foundation (AHLAF), projects should contribute to the prosperity and vitality of the lodging industry and afford the industry an opportunity to be proactive rather than reactive to any impending or pressing industry-wide problem. Typically AHLAF is not looking to fund projects that strictly address an academic audience. Instead, all funded projects should have clear applicability directly to lodging operators. The end result should be in a format that is easily understood by an average hotel operator and ready for distribution to the industry. Proposals should benefit a major segment of the lodging industry (i.e. smaller properties, resorts, chains) and be broad based in geographical appeal.

A summary of previously funded projects is available at www.ahla.com/ahla-research-reports.

2. Grants of more than $40,000 may be spread over a two-year period.
3. Project funding by the AHLAF Board is viewed as complete funding for any approved project rather than a source of guaranteed continuous funding.
4. Although encouraged to administer the grant without charging indirect costs, an institution may charge no more than 20 percent in indirect costs, and this must be included in the grant total.
